Extension Lecture

The Department of Economics, Islamic University of Science and Technology hosted its first extension lecture of 2023. The lecture was first in the series scheduled by the Head, Department of Economics, Prof. S.M. Shafi. In the first lecture, Mr. Lateef Ahmed Mantoo JKAS officer batch 2023 delivered the lecture titled “the ways to infinite possibility; preparation for the JKAS Examination”. Having a background, in economics, Mr. Mantoo guided the students towards making the right choices in the direction of attaining the goal of qualifying the said Examination.

The session was moderated by Dr. Mehak Majeed. Head Department of economics, welcome the guest and deliberated on the importance of right guidance at the right time. The head encouraged the students to be competitive and assured full support of the department. All the faculty members actively participated in the session. Along with the expert, the faculty highly supported and motivated the students to gear themselves up for the job market and the upcoming challenges thereof. The session was highly interactive and the students actively asked questions to the expert, clearing all their doubts.

The event was concluded with the vote of thanks.
