

“

Pursuing MA in English in the Department of English Language and Literature at Islamic University of Science and Technology (IUST), Awantipora was intellectually rewarding. It has positively changed what I thought I could achieve and what I now think is possible for me in the future life. The overall learning experience was enriching as it infused critical insights and introduced new forms of life and knowledge to me. I was fortunate enough to be surrounded by supportive colleagues, seniors and well-qualified teachers and the ambience there in the Department made me the person I am today.

The Department played a crucial role in carving my successful career. The well-furnished language lab has helped me enhance my communication skills and boosted my confidence to speak publicly. The faculty inculcated great values in me, which made me ready for the outside world. In fact, the dedication of the faculties is beyond description. I feel blessed to have received education from some of the sublimest and well-experienced teachers of the Department, who not only disseminate knowledge, but also motivate and support you to follow and achieve your passion.

I am exceptionally indebted to all my teachers at the Department of English Language and Literature for fostering me during the short span of two years of my Post Graduation. I strongly recommend the Department for pursuing BA, MA and PhD in English in the valley.

”

Dr. Manzoor Ahmad Najar
Assistant Professor, English Language and Literature,
Islamic University of Science and Technology