

Future Thrust Areas

- To support interdisciplinary research programmes in resolving societal issues.
- To conduct projects involving Human health, environment management and pollution research.
- To generate conversations around important scientific and social issue through panel discussions, symposia, documentary screenings.
- Community engagement regarding pressing social issues.