

Director JKEDI Visits Islamic University of Science and Technology Awantipora, Kashmir.

CIED IUST FOUNDATION

AWANTIPORA

Director JKEDI Sh.Rajinder Kumar Sharma (JKAS) held a discussion with honorable Vice Chancellor Prof. Shakil Ahmad Romshoo at Iust Awantipora, regarding skill startups, startup funding and starting the development of C4i4. They discussed Startups must validate their product-market fit early on to attract funding and sustain growth, promotion of innovation and start of culture of innovation. They also discussed skill startup programs, which suggests a strong interest in fostering entrepreneurial skills among students and possibly launching new initiatives related to startups within the university.

The Director JKEDI Sh.Rajinder Kumar Sharma (JKAS) discussed modes of collaboration skill development for the youth and skill development of far flung areas so that they Inclusive.

The Director JKEDI also visits CIED IUST FOUNDATION and interreacts with STEM Students (Skill to Enterprise Model) and told the students about the benefits of J&K Startup Policy among the startup policy with CIED IUST FOUNDATION. He also visits CIED Incubation lab and other facilitation centers of the CIED Department.

The Director JKEDI also visits food technology labs to emphasize new food processing equipment, it indicates a proactive approach towards enhancing food processing capabilities. This visit likely underscores a focus on innovation and modernization within the food technology sector. Such initiatives are crucial for improving food quality, efficiency, and possibly exploring advancements in food safety or sustainability.

The Director JKEDI also met with Director CIED Prof. Parvez. A. Mir, they also discussed about the Market Fit, IP Promotion, Team Building and require a strategic approach that combines technical expertise, business acumen, and awareness of specific funding opportunities and regulatory challenges. Building a strong network within the startup ecosystem and leveraging available resources will be key to success.